

Style Invitational

BY PAT MYERS

Har Scrabble:

More honorable mentions from Week 1021

in which we presented 100 “tile sets” of seven letters each from the ScrabbleGrams feature that appears daily in The Post, and asked you to come up with your own terms (all the tile sets were designed to generate only six-letter words). We got so many neologisms for this contest that we’re running them over two weeks. (See the first group in the June 9 Sunday Style section or online at bit.ly/invite1025.)

THIS WEEK’S CONTEST

Week 1026: ‘Might’ makes ink

You might be too much of a cat person if . . .
You might be spending too much time at work if . . .
You might need to do some shopping if . . .
You might want to cut back on the coffee if . . .
You might be humor-impaired if . . .

For the past few months, the Empress has been posting a Style Invitational Ink of the Day on Facebook — either a single classic entry as a graphic meme, or as a mini-list of a few entries from one contest. Recently she shared some entries from Week 752, which sought jokes in five categories of the venerated “you just might” form (“You just might need a new car soon if every 3,000 miles, you change the duct tape” — Chuck Smith), and decided that she just might want to mine this lode again. This week: Give us a joke using any of the templates above (you also have the option of using the form “If . . . you might. . . if your joke seems to work better that way).

Winner gets the Inkin’ Memorial, the Lincoln-statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives the distinguished noodly headwear donated by and modeled here by 225-time Loser Dave Prevar. Because Dave was concerned about appearing too conservatively dressed at the Losers’ Flushies awards last month, he also donned a Loser T-shirt, which for many years was awarded to Invite runners-up.

Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug or the ardently desired Grossery Bag. Honorable mentions get a lusted-after Loser magnet. First Offenders receive a smelly, tree-shaped air “freshener” (FirStink for their first ink). E-mail entries to losers@washpost.com or fax to 202-334-4312. Deadline is Monday, July 1; results published July 21 (online July 18). No more than 25 entries per entrant per week. Include “Week 1026” in your e-mail subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/inviterules. This week’s honorable-mentions line is by Beverley Sharp. Join the lively Style Invitational Devotees group on Facebook at on.fb.me/invdev.

NAN REINER

Dave Prevar models this week’s second prize. The hat, that is — the T-shirts are no more, alas.

EEUXTPM: Exmute: A mime after you drop a brick on his foot. (Jeff Hazle, Woodbridge)

EEUOGRB: Rogue-B: Letter that sneaked its way into “doubt,” “subtle” and “plumber.” (Rachel A. Bernhardt, Silver Spring)

● EEOGrub: A cafeteria where everyone, regardless of race, gender or religion, gets the mystery meat. (Elden Carnahan, Laurel)

EEYRSWN: Newsery: Where cub reporters are raised. (Dave Zarrow, Reston)

AAELRBR, EUITSNH and EUUGHMB: Gluteal-reduction firm (Rearlab) that makes an ablation product (Tushine) for a prototypical American customer (with a hugebum). (Mike Gips)

Next week’s results: T-minus 5-7-5, or Poetry in Martian, our Week 1023 contest to write funny haiku to take on the Mars exploration craft.
