Yearly departed: 2020 obit poems

BY PAT MYERS

Week 1417 was our annual contest for poems about those who died in the past year. Numerous verses about the artist Christo ended "That's a wrap" or reported that Kenny Rogers knew when to fold

4th place:

Whitey Ford (1928-2020) Bob Gibson (1935-2020) Phil Niekro (1939-2020)

Tom Seaver (1944-2020) The way they'd pitch the ball, And with perfection flirt, Would hold us in their thrall, And batters disconcert. But now they've hit the wall, For no one can avert The Umpire's final call: "Outside and in the dirt." (Mark Raffman, Reston)

3rd place:

Katherine Johnson (1918-2020). protagonist of 'Hidden Figures' Katherine G. Johnson, the NASA computer

Mathematician ahead of her time. Lived a long life to a hundred and

Speaking numerically, died in her prime. (Ellen Haas, Alexandria, a First Offender)

2nd place and the mask that accidentally says 'crotch' in Hebrew letters:

Frank Carney (1938-2020), co-founder of Pizza Hut

In keeping with traditions old, Once boxed, he was delivered cold. (Frank Osen, Pasadena, Calif.)

And the winner of the Clowning Achievement: Michael Sexson (1966-2020), treasure hunter Michael Sexson, 53, had read of buried treasure; Set out with just some clues, and an acquaintance, for good measure. They didn't find the gold. Soon, cold and hungry, they got lost, But searchers finally brought 'em down the mountain to defrost

Now most folks, being reasonable, would kiss this quest goodbye; But not these two! In just one month, they made a second try . . . , Bad choice. At least the pal survived ('cause later they were

But Michael (like the gold) has now been buried underground. (Beverley Sharp, Montgomery, Ala.)

Passing: Honorable mentions James Randi (1928-2020), magician and debunker

James Randi was the enemy of mystics and clairvoyants. The so-called supernatural he looked on with annoyance. He sniffed at paranormal claims and often proved them phony. And what about the afterlife? His ghost says it's baloney. (Jonathan Jensen, Baltimore)

Jim Lehrer (1934-2020), newsman and moderator of many presidential debates

Though you might well have wanted, if given a choice, To put off that heavenly chime, It wasn't to be - an ethereal voice Spoke up: "Jim, you've exceeded your time." (Duncan Stevens, Vienna, Va.)

Whitlow Au (1940-2020), pioneer in understanding the echolocation of dolphins and whales

No matter their region or nation, All dolphins and whales in creation Revere Whitlow's name And agree he became The first ape to speak fluent Cetacean. (Melissa Balmain, Rochester, N.Y.)

Herman Cain (1945-2020), politician who died of the coronavirus

Herman Cain, a mask-forgoer, Should have been a better-knower. (Jesse Frankovich, Lansing, Mich.)

Bill Withers (1938-2020), singersongwriter

Bill Withers left some legacy: "Ain't No Sunshine," "Lean on Me." His hits are an impressive list; I know he will be missed. (Bruce Niedt, Cherry Hill, N.J.)

Chuck Yeager (1923-2020), test pilot

New contest for Week 1421: Alternaugural Address '21

Four years ago in this space, the Empress invited (that is what we do) the Loser Community to compose a sentence or more that used only words appearing in the 2017 presidential inaugural address. The man who delivered those 1,433 words is now gone from Washington, but we're still here. And it seems only fair that we welcome President Biden to Loserdom as well, and this time we won't be worrying that he could explode into a tweet-rage. (That didn't happen in 2017, to our relief. But it might have!)

This week: Write a humorous passage — a

"quote," an observation, a joke, a dialogue, a poem, anything — using only words that appear in Biden's inaugural address. For consistency, please use the White House's transcript, which you can find at wapo.st/bidenaddress or by Googling. You may use a word only as many times as it appears in the speech; for example, you may use "history" up to seven times, and "hope" up to four, but "bottom" only once (and "carnage," blessedly, not at all). You must use the whole word as it appears ("testing" but not "test") but you may change capitalization and punctuation however you like. (Use the hyphenated "once-in-a-century" and "swearing-in" as separate words.) You may attribute your "quote" to someone else.

Handy-dandy tool! Thanks to Loser Todd DeLap, we've also published an alphabetical list of all 2,500 or so words in the speech, along with the number of times each is used. Check out wapo.st/invite-list-1421.

Submit up to 25 entries at wapo.st/enter-invite-1421 (no capitals in the Web address). Deadline isMonday, Feb. 8; results appear Feb. 27 in print, Feb. 24

Winner gets the Clowning Achievement, our new Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives a classic "hand boiler," which, relax, doesn't boil your hand; it's a steampunk-looking plaything consisting of two feather-light glass bulbs with a tube coiling decoratively between them. When your hand warms the bottom bulb, the rise in gas pressure makes red liquid snake through the coils to the top bulb. Donated by Dave Prevar.

Other runners-up win their choice of our "For Best Results, Pour Into Top End"Loser Mug or our "Whole Fools" Grossery Bag. Honorable mentions get one of our lusted-after Loser magnets, "No 'Bility" or "Punderachiever." First Offenders receive only a smelly tree-shaped air "freshener" (FirStink for their first ink). See general contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/ InvRules. The headline "Yearly Departed" was submitted by both Chris Doyle and Jesse Frankovich"; Dave Prevar wrote the honorable-mentions subhead. Answers to last week's puzzle below.

BY MADALYN ASLAN

HAPPY BIRTHDAY | Jan. 31: Charming, attractive and social, you have true star power. Despite covid-19, you can't hide yourself away, and you must be heard. This year, you are heard through your words and through not conforming to other people's expectations of you. A second career comes to most of you. If single, you're so admired and appreciated that you have the pick of the crop. If attached, trust and respect are key. Aries excites you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today's a good day to get organized for the coming week — and the new $\,$ year. Redetermine your New Year's resolutions and write them down for the future. Plenty of inspiration combined with realistic expectations will work best.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Romantic interludes have a surprise and fated quality. If lonely, you could connect with a true soul mate. Spiritual forces inspire creative expression. If you pursue your favorite art form with enthusiasm, you'll be rewarded with exceptional results.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Transportation problems are solved. Short, impromptu journeys lead to unexpected delights and opportunities. Your emphatic expression of ideas and warmth will win the confidence of others. Your imagination and sensitivity inspire those less free and fortunate.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today promises much excitement and brings the ability to balance your ideals. Be receptive to the inevitable change in the air, and all will be well in the end. Identifying real values can be something of a challenge, but you do it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Opportunities arise that may open doors to a better life - pursue them. Avoid arguments or excessive stress connected to money. Humor and goodwill brighten intimate ties. Creative ideas, art and music bring pleasure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today helps you develop your latent talents, be noticed by influential people and broaden your scope of activity. Accept all invitations. You accomplish much and are an inspiration to others. Verify appointments and use care in making promises.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You will be reserved today; your childhood shyness is revived. Animal friends and nature become a bigger part of your life. Appreciate the advantages of privacy and cherish the quiet times. You acquire a deeper understanding of life's mysteries.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A second opinion helps solve any problems. Renew professional contacts and update old applications. A second or third attempt at reaching any goal is likely to work out. Be persistent. Try not to veer away from long-range goals now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Your visibility is on the rise. It is difficult to keep any secrets today. You develop a deeper understanding of ongoing conditions at work or within organizations. Postpone decisions about the future. Events are unfolding that could change your

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today promises a new twist regarding your social life. A gettogether is not what you expected; a loved one is unpredictable. Be very considerate and correct in all dealings with others. Select a moderate, healthy diet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) It's easier to make the right choices today. A vision of the future comes through dreams or meditation. Kind friends from the past are in touch. Communication with those you care for improves.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Upkeep of your surroundings and attention to health are musts today. Be patient with family members and make your home peaceful and safe. Kindness is expressed by those who share your beliefs.
