In his first Style Invitational contest suggestion ever, (Obnoxious Invitational- istic) Chris Doyle of Fairfax, VA, proposes a twist on a contest that ran occasionally in the Saturday Evening Post Magazine Competition of which he is a director—Any Editor. Mary Ann Madden offered up a game called Superghost, in which a “four” of letters was supplied, and contestants had to create and define a word that included...