Review for a box of Morton’s Iodized Salt:
This product works great for killing the slugs in my garden. I just roll the cylinder between the rows and it smushes them really good. Please send me the next size up so I can deal with the gophers. — David Genser, Week 960

A couple of years ago, the Empress capitalized on the thousands of “product reviews” — most of them would have been printed in Sarcasm Font had that typeface been available — that people had posted on Amazon.com for some of the literally millions of items available through Amazon’s portal. The review above got ink in our early 2012 contest in which the E solicited reviews for any of five boring everyday products.

Not only did Week 960 yield some zingy paeans to emery boards and dish cloths, but we’ve concluded that the contest also must have caught the attention of Amazon’s chairman and CEO — and that The Style Invitational must have so utterly beguiled him that he decided he wanted a Washington Post of his very own.

So now that it’s all in the family, let’s give it another go. This week: Send us a creative “review” for any of the items below that are listed on Amazon.com, mostly through third-party sellers. The reviews must not be harmful to the manufacturer or seller. Feel free to post the reviews on Amazon itself, but not until we post the results online Dec. 11. While some reviews on Amazon run hundreds of words, we’re
If you have the best review of this solar turkey — or maybe even the second-best review — this guy could be yours.

Universal paper clips 72210

White Cloud cotton balls, jumbo, 200ct

Westcott 12-inch wood ruler, beveled edge

Pringles Original, 5.68 oz

Solar dancing turkey

Winner gets the Inkin’ Memorial, the Lincoln statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives a solar dancing turkey, or at least a bobbing turkey, donated by Jeffrey P. Bezos of the Seattle area. (Indirectly, anyway.) Watch it “dance” here.
Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug or the ardently desired “Whole Fools” Grossery Bag. Honorable mentions get a lusted-after Loser magnet in one of our two new Bob Staake designs: either “The Wit Hit the Fan” or “Hardly Har-Har.” First Offenders receive a smelly tree-shaped air “freshener” (FirStink for their first ink). E-mail entries to losers@washpost.com or, if you were born in the 19th century, fax to 202-334-4312. Deadline is Monday, Nov. 24; results published Dec. 14 (online Dec. 11). No more than 25 entries per entrant per contest. Include “Week 1098” in your e-mail subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. This week’s headline for the results is by Mark Raffman; the honorable-mentions subhead is by Danielle Nowlin. In honor of the 11th running of our Tour de Fours neologism contest, the four-letter block included “XI.” And the challenge was to make up a term incorporating the letter block T-A-X-I, in any order. So of course there were lots of entries on taxes and taxis, but with, as always,
