Stephen Douglas also famously said: “Look at that face? Would anyone vote for that?” (Bob Staake for The Washington Post)

By Pat Myers  February 4  Follow @PatMyersTWP

(Click here to skip down to the winning crossword clues of Week 1157)

Stephen Douglas used the line “I know you are but what am I?” four times in his debate with Lincoln. (Jay Shuck)

Hillary Clinton has amassed a huge campaign war chest from monies freed from the accounts of Mrs. Sese Seko merely by paying administrative fees of only a few thousands of dollars US. (Jeff Contompasis)

Joe Biden once held his breath for 12 seconds. (Ira Allen)
Nine years ago, we combined two of our favorite contest genres in Week 739: (a) zings at politicians and (b) lies, usually in the form of bogus trivia. Since then, the candidates themselves have taken lying to a new level, not even bothering to fudge facts when they can just make up total wha??? untruths and proclaim them with confidence. So we’re not going to feel bad about this week’s contest: Tell us some false “facts” about politicians, present or past. You can see the results of our first contest at bit.ly/invite743.

Though we’ll be rewarding a lie, winner still gets the Inkin’ Memorial, the Honest Abe statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives the brand-new Trump Coloring Book, in which artist M.G. Anthony depicts the potential president of the United States as an addition to Mount Rushmore, the face on a $1 million bill, and all four street-crossers on the “Abbey Road” cover. Donated to the Invite campaign chest by Denise Sudell.

Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug, the older-model “This Is Your Brain on Mugs” mug or a vintage Loser T-shirt in various styles. Honorable mentions get one of lusted-after Loser magnets, “Magnet Dum Laude” or “Falling Jest Short.” First Offenders receive a smelly tree-shaped air “freshener” (FirStink for their first ink). Email entries to losers@washpost.com or, if you were born in the 19th century, fax to 202-334-4312. Deadline is Monday night, Feb. 15; results published March 6 (online March 3). You may submit up to 25 entries per contest. Include “Week 1161” in your email subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. The headline for this week’s results is by Kevin Dopart; the honorable-mentions subhead is by Tom Witte. Join the lively Style Invitational Devotees group on Facebook at on.fb.me/invdev. “Like” the Style Invitational Ink of the Day on Facebook at bit.ly/inkofday; follow @StyleInvite on Twitter.

The Style Conversational: The Empress’s weekly online column, published late Thursday afternoon, discusses each new contest and set of results. Especially if you plan to enter, check it out at wapo.st/styleconv.
And the winners of the Style Invitational contest announced four weeks ago . . .

YOUR HINT PARADE: THE CROSSWORD CLUES OF WEEK 1157

In Week 1157 we presented a filled-in crossword by The Post’s new Sunday crossword guy, Evan Birnholz, and invited you to come up with joke clues for the words. You have to think flexibly to get some of these: for example, many readers suggested that STAB was the patron saint of sit-ups, and that NETSALES concerned the beer selection at Brooklyn NBA games. See Evan’s favorite clues in this week’s Style Conversational (published late Thursday afternoon).

BAR: Both lawyers and drunkards need to pass this (Rob Huffman, Fredericksburg, Va.)

BEAT: Follows “A: Get up” on a forgetful person’s to-do list (Frank Osen, Pasadena, Calif.)

and the solar-powered Buddha:

FARMS: Rejected terser, saltier title of Hemingway’s novel (hyphenated) (Duncan Stevens, Vienna, Va.)

And the winner of the Inkin’ Memorial:

LIE: Dead politicians continue to do this in their graves (Jeff Contompasis, Ashburn, Va.)

Fall in the blanks: honorable mentions

ABBA+MUSH: Two-word review of “Fernando” (William Kennard, Arlington, Va.)

MUSH: Goo, or Go! (Jack McBroom, Fort Valley, Va.)

RELAY: When you truly can’t eat just one (Barry Koch, Catlett, Va.)

REAR: Both Kim Kardashian and her fame rest on this (Kirsten Rahman, Silver Spring, Md.)

REAR: Talk like a pirate again (Danielle Nowlin, Fairfax Station, Va.)

See devilcross.com/2014/03 for Evan Birnholz’s actual clues for this grid, and The Style Conversational for Evan’s favorites among this week’s clues. (GRID BY EVAN BIRNHOLZ AT DEVILCROSS.COM)
ONTO: He rides with the One Ranger (Selma Ellis, Rolling Meadows, Ill.)

KINDERGARTEN COP: At nap time, who gets called when a child is resisting a rest (Barry Herman, Laurel, Md., a First Offender)

FRILLS: These days, legroom AND six mini-pretzels (Lena Webb, Somerville, Mass., a First Offender)

LOBE: Stud’s hangout (Donald Ramsey, Takoma Park, Md., a First Offender)

LOBE: Without it, you’re earring-impaired (Chris Doyle, Ponder, Tex.)

FARMS: A long-distance girlfriend (Chris Damm, Charles Town, W.Va.)

EKE: The middle of a weekend (Kevin Dopart, Washington)

OMIT: Nike’s new yoga-wear slogan: Just ___ ___ (Ben Aronin, Washington)

NETSALES: Dumb way for the Flying Wallendas to make a little money (Bill Lieberman, Ellicott City, Md.)

PLESSY: Full of pless (Brendan Beary, Great Mills, Md.)

PLESSY: X + Y = P. Solve for X. (Todd DeLap, Fairfax, Va.)

WEIRDO: Yankovic’s blood type (Frank Osen)

WEIRDO: That slashy letter the Danish use (Paul Burnham, Gainesville, Va.)

TYRION LANNISTER: Like life: nasty, brutish and short (Jeff Loren, Seattle)

AINT: What’s left when paint starts peeling (Mae Scanlan, Washington)

BERG: What Dan Snyder told Kirk Cousins not to do (Mark Richardson, Takoma Park, Md.)

ESSEX: The most contorted position in the Kama Sutra (Peter Boice, Rockville, Md.)

SIDING: Contributing something to Thanksgiving dinner (Kevin Dopart)

SIDING: In Barcelona, the answer to “Does that bell make a sound?” (Jeff Shirley, Richmond, Va.)

EYESORE: Sty or stye (Lena Webb)

EYESORE: Gloomy donkey’s ugly brother (Brendan Beary)

ROBS: What there’s too many of as soon as Schneider shows up in a movie (Steve Honley, Washington)

COLD SNAP: “See, there’s no global warming …” (Jon Gearhart, Des Moines)
ARGUE: What pirates say in a cussing match (Jon Gearhart)

BEAT: What Miss Philippines did to Miss Colombia, and what Miss Colombia should have done to Steve Harvey (Danielle Nowlin)

FATES+WEIRDO: The word “SO” in Comic Sans (Kathy Hardis Fraeman, Olney, Md.)

SIRED: Fourth choice at a sperm bank (Andrew Hoenig, Rockville, Md.)

ARTFORMS: Creative tax returns (Tom Murphy, Bowie, Md.)

ARTFORMS: Greenwich Village version of “[stuff] happens” (David Garratt, Silver City, N.M.)

PORN: Field of employment where openings appear often but are quickly filled (Mark Raffman, Reston, Va.)

ERIES: Drunken Clevelanders might see two or three of these (Duncan Stevens, Vienna, Va.)

UNCLEREMUS: Remove the cleremus (Warren Tanabe, Annapolis, Md.)

STOLEAKISS: Item on an expensive call girl’s price list (Ward Kay, Vienna, Va.)

TETE: It was on the cutting edge in 1789 (Beverley Sharp, Montgomery, Ala.)

Still running — deadline Monday night, Feb. 8: our contest to redefine an existing word. See bit.ly/invite1160.

Get Entertainment Alerts
Big stories in the entertainment world as they break.

E-mail address

Add

Share

Tweet

Comments

Most Read
William Shatner says goodbye to Leonard Nimoy in his new book

′In Other Words′ review: Jhumpa Lahiri′s love letter to Italian

′Knitlandia: A Knitter Sees the World′ review

French soprano Sandrine Piau makes stunning D.C. debut

Black comedy turns to horror in ′Guards at the Taj′