Sign you’re dating a loser: He pulls up in a clunker car.
Sign you’re really dating a loser: He pulls up in a clunker car that is being towed. (Kenny Burrow)

Sign you might really be in trouble: The newspaper uses your middle name when it writes about you. (Russel Beland)

Here's a contest we did one time, 17 years ago. There were lots of good entries back in Week 401, including the ones above, but heck, 17 years — even the Empress is optimistic that some more material has cropped up since Russell Beland suggested this contest to her predecessor, the Czar.

This week: Tell us an indication to some problem, followed by an even more dire sign.

Submit entries at the website wapo.st/enter-invite-1295 (all lowercase).

Winner gets the Lose Cannon, our new Style Invitational trophy. Second place wins, from the cute Danish chain Flying Tiger, a notepad that looks like a chocolate bar with a corner nibbled away, and also a rubbery elephant trunk that you fit over your finger and wiggle around for whatever reason. Found in Spain by Inge Ashley.

Other runners-up win our “You Gotta Play to Lose” Loser Mug or our Grossery Bag. “I Got a B in Punsanship.” Honorable mentions get one of our lusted-after Loser magnets, “We’ve Seen Better” or “Idiot Card.” First Offenders receive only a smelly tree-shaped air “freshener” (FirStink for their first ink). Deadline is Monday night, Sept. 10; results published Sept. 30 (online Sept. 27). See general contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. The headline for this week’s results is by Tom Witte; Jesse Frankovich wrote the honorable-mentions subhead.
