AEEGLLZ > ALL-ZEE: A successful naptime at day care.
AEEGLLZ > LAZE-LEG: What the potato puts on the couch.
AEEGLLZ > ZEAL-GL: Lube.

Seven letters, six times for our neologism contest based on the syndicated ScrabbleGrams feature that appears daily in The Post. At the bottom of this page is a list of 45 seven letter sets taken from the 2005 “Big Book of ScrabbleGrams.” Each of them contains at least one real seven-letter word, but that doesn’t matter here. This week: Create a five-, six- or seven-letter word (or phrase) by scrambling the letters of any of the sets and define it, as in the examples above from one of this week’s sets.

Just as in the crossword clue results that run today, many people will inevitably come up with highly similar entries; one way to make your definition more inky worthy than some other Loser’s is to include a funny example of how your word could be used in real life. (Note: We are not plaving for Scrabble points; the letter values don’t matter.)
Important! How to format your entry: Begin each entry — as usual, up to 25 in all — with the letter set you're unscrambling, as above, and spell it as printed, so that it won't take hours for the Empress just to sort the entries. Don't number your entries, because then they won't start with the seven letters, right?

Submit entries at wapo.st/enter-invite-1319 (all lowercase).

Winner gets the Lose Cannon, our Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives a Mason jar of Auntie's Black Pepper Everybody's Shito ("More Shito Less Oil"), a deep red Ghanaian sauce including tomato paste, herring and the eponymous pepper. If you win this, you have to let the Empress have a taste. Donated by Marileen May.

Other runners-up win our "You Gotta Play to Lose" Loser Mug or our "Whole Fools" Grocery Bag. Honorable mentions get one of our lusted-after Loser magnets, "We've Seen Better" or "IDiot Card." First Offenders receive only a smelly tree-shaped air "freshener" (FirstStink for their first ink).

Deadline is Monday night, Feb. 25: results published March 17 (online Thursday, March 14. See general contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. The headline "Gorificulous" was submitted by both Kevin Dopart and Jesse Frankovich; Chris Doyle wrote the honorable-mentions subhead.
